AR Products ehf. is an innovation startup company, focusing on Augmented Reality and its world of creativity.

Augmented Reality is an interactive experience that takes a real-life product and connects it with the digital world – opening up many possibilities.

Our first product was a deck of playing cards with pictures of Santa Claus. Using AR technology with the app App, Santa Claus comes to life, dances around and tells stories.

We are now introducing new products AR PopUp Cards – Using augmented reality technology, our cards come to life. The figures on the cards will be interactive and there is a short story with each card related to the image.

We have a warehouse in Portland Maine USA.

The company is based in Reykjavík, Iceland. Our group of digital enthusiasts includes graphic designers, programmers, animators and story creators. Its founder and owner is Mr. Pétur Ásgeirsson an Icelandic entrepreneur. Co-owner and Chairman is Mr. Kristinn Gylfi Jónsson.

AR PopUp Cards

(Modern opportunity cards with an educational touch)

The pack includes 5 cards, each with a unique design cards and envelopes.

Size: 105 x 148 mm/ 4 x 5.8 inch with 300g quality paper.

Our Free AR App is included with this product.

All cards have different features, but what all of them have in common are the interactive 3D PopUp models with Augmented Reality technology.

All cards have their own independent short story which is about 5 minutes long.

AudioBook:

Since our cards are primarily an audiobook, it has an ISBN number and is subject to lower VAT.

What is ISBN number: International Standard Book Number (ISBN) is a national and international standard identification number for uniquely identifying books, i.e., publications that are not intended to continue indefinitely.

Our cards are educational:

Listening to a audiobook helps your child learn punctuation, enunciation, and emphasis, all of which bring out the meaning of a text and improve speaking and writing skills. Children who listen to audio books learn to understand language above their reading level, and learn new words and advanced constructs.
